TRANSFER of the baton from runner to runner during the 190-mile ORU Golden Gate Relay (GGR) symbolizes the transfer of an organ and reminds families to discuss becoming an organ donor. During the 1997 GGR, US President Bill Clinton signed a GGR shirt for 3-year-old Delaney Corbitt after she received a new kidney. After Nicholas Green donated organs to seven Italians (“The Nicholas Effect” book; “Nicholas’ Gift” CBS film), Maria Pia Pedala (received Nicholas’ liver) attended the 2004 GGR covered by four television stations and 18 publications (including Reader’s Digest). Sonoma Rotary Lung Lover teams dedicate their 2021 GGR to lung recipient Mark Hubenette, husband of Rotarian Dr. Kimberly Hubenette.

ORU (ORU and Friends 501c3 Tax ID 45-3266453) generates publicity (more than $25 million) about the need for organs, supports families waiting for donors, provides Transplant Olympics scholarships and purchased computers for registering organ donors. ORU promotes healthy organs through athletics and public speaking (Train Well – replace meds, vitamins and supplements with exercise and nutrition). ORU has no paid executives.

RUN, walk, volunteer, donate a magic $1 or an organ with a team or 12 crossing the Golden Gate Bridge near midnight or on a virtual course in your country. GGR is a unique adventure uniting communities globally in a celebration of life, fitness and teamwork while promoting organ donation.
